Answer	N
Authenticity	1
Business insights + stakeholder engagement	1
Listening, curiosity	1
coaching, mentoring, business acumen and political savvyness, transforming a vision	1
stakeholder management	1

Majority of attendees have a coaching management style

Democratic: the decision-making process is left up to the entire unit

Visionary: they trust their employees to handle the logistics while they hone in on things like a company vision and future goals

Autocratic: give precise orders, leaving little room for creativity or employee growth

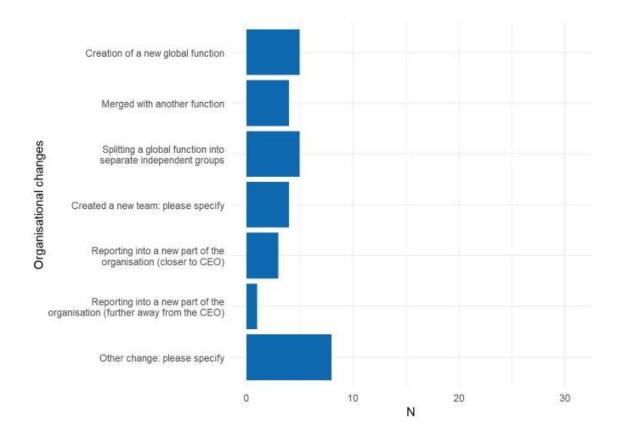

Coaching: fostering employee growth, encouraging development, and providing mentorship

Laissez-Faire: Employees are encouraged to make their own decisions, with management acting as a guide, if and when needed

Pacesetting: goal-oriented, high performing individuals – and they expect the same from their team

Servant: They care deeply about the relationships and dynamics of their team and do their best to foster a harmonious environment
